

While we are calling this a prophecy for 2018, it should be noted that I believe the Lord speaks more in seasons, rather than our calendar years. It is also important to note that intercession can diminish the severity of some of the words that speak of potential judgment—and, in some cases, may avert the judgement all together (see Genesis 18:17-32; Amos 7:1-6). In any case, all prophecies should be bathed in intercession, both the ones that speak of harvest and blessing, as well as the ones with the admonitions attached to them.

I am opening a door for my people into unprecedented glory. It is a glory that is yet to come into the earth. It is a glory to activate my people for operating in the power and the gifts of the Spirit as never before. I want my people to move in the power of God as the prophets of old moved in my power as a lifestyle. I desire the world system to tremble as my people release the word of Lord with undeniable accuracy and authority. In this season in the earth, I desire the words of my people to create realities that do not yet exist. This is a season of unprecedented power and glory.

My desire is to truly mark the calendar year of 2018 as one of great glory and power. The year 2018 is a year of great, great glory. Many of my people's eyes will be open to see a visible cloud of my glory when my people gather. The cloud of my glory will be a visible sign to my people that the glory of the previous generation will merge with a glory of this new season; old and new will merge as one for the purposes to be established. The door I am opening to my people is a door of glory and power. A new grace is being made available to the saints of God to operate in the power of God as never before.

I am opening the door to heaven in certain cities, regions and nations as never before. The year 2018 will be marked by an unprecedented outpouring of the Holy Spirit that will mark and remake the ground in the earth. The mark of my power and presence will come into the earth as never before, released by power and glory into the earth across continents. Reports will be given around the world of the work of my Spirit. Truly you are living in a time of fresh outpouring and power in the nations of the earth – indeed an unprecedented time of outpouring harvest and manifestation.

There will truly be an emergence of an apostolic company of people in this season who will become global leaders in a global revival and even a reformation of the church. Now is the time of reformation. Now is the time of greater glory. Now is the time for a new wineskin of leadership in the earth. I am going to connect leaders and ministries across the globe for the purpose of partnership and cross pollination. I am going to release a representation of unity to the world that has not been seen since the birth of the early church. Yes, one of the marks of this current move of God must be that my people come together as one for the purposes of advancing my Kingdom. This is a season in which I desire my people to get rid of judgement, strife, and gossip which has caused my people to live with dishonor, and has not allowed them to access their divine inheritance.

I have a unique grace upon the New England region of the United States. New England contains a very unique place in the heart of God. As 2018 commences, I will pour out my Spirit in an unprecedented manner in the New England region. What used to be will merge into what I am doing now to release my outpouring as never before. New England will be a model region for what I am doing in the United States of America. I will cause leaders to come together as never before in humility and openness to each other for the regional cause of the outpouring of my Spirit. I am marking New England as never before in 2018 as my hand is upon the region.

My grace is also upon the West Coast of the United States. I will bring in a unique way Apostolic leaders from different streams to join together as one for the purpose of God. I see a net from heaven that will gather together Apostles and Prophets from the West Coast for the purpose of equipping, strategy, and the release of the word of Lord.

2018 will be marked as a year of unprecedented and brilliant revelation, where my people will be given understanding of the times and seasons in which we live. Do not think it strange when certain world systems begin to fail on a repeated basis, but understand that this is a season for my people to lean into me with their whole, heart, mind and soul – hearing the word of the Lord and being governed by the word of the Lord. I am granting insight into the times and seasons in which my people live. I am granting insight and wisdom for my people in the assignment which they have been called to before the foundation of the earth. I am granting insight to pray effective prayers, and proceed in the toughest of circumstances. I am granting insight into the future so that my people can demonstrate my goodness even in the middle of adversity. I see a large book with the title on the front inscribed as ‘wisdom’, and the Lords says, ‘I am releasing great wisdom to my people – those who have ears to hear and eyes to be attentive.’

This is a year of supernatural harvest. I see a huge plow that is being released from heaven. With the release of this plow, there is the grace to obtain the harvest that is my people’s inheritance in this season. Declare the lost in your families coming home and see them return home. Declare my promises of giving you the lost as your inheritance. This is a year of supernatural harvest, but not just a harvest of the lost coming. Yes, the prodigals are coming home. This is also a year of a supernatural return on the harvest of financial seeds my children have sown. Call in a return on the seeds you have sown in previous seasons and see abundance in a manner you have not known. This is a season where I am unlocking supernatural abundance for my people in a manner in which they have not known. He who has ears to hear and eyes to see will not live in lack.

This is a season of divine promises. I will release promises to my people in this season which will anchor them in strategy, vision and purpose for the next 20 to 25 year. I see a cloud of promises God is releasing in the earth to His people. These promises are God’s desire and hope not only for His people, but the future of the planet which humanity has been given as an inheritance. It is important to recognize this season of promises because the promises God is releasing in this season are not only to shape and guide His people, but are to shape the history of the earth. My people must have promises that govern and guide them into the future.

This is a season to not lose hope. I am releasing a grace for my people to have hope restored in places where despair, heartache and pain have settled in. This is a season of restored hope, and a season to not grow weary in well doing. For many have turned back from the ministry and even the assignments which I have called them to, because they could not see a manner to move ahead, or provision was lacking, or criticism had come. I say to you, ‘Do not lose hope and do not grow weary in well doing. Stand in the profession of your faith. See the goodness of God manifest, and your mountain will obey you.’

This will be a season of divine acceleration. I am releasing a grace to accelerate the assignments which I have called my people to in this season. My children's hands will be hands of great multiplication in this season. Expand your thinking beyond simply enough, or what you can do with your talents, or what you can do with your own strength. See every work that you are doing in my name and on behalf of me. See it through the lenses of grace for acceleration and multiplication. I am the God of grace. I am the God of increase. I am the God who makes all grace abound. I am accelerating. My desire is to take some of my children from the dirt track to racetrack, to accelerate the purposes of God on their life and calling.

This is a season of divine manifestation for the body of Christ. I will suddenly manifest the church building for which some have been standing in faith for many years. I will suddenly manifest the financial overflow for which many have believed and contended for many years in their lives and ministry. I will suddenly manifest children my people have been believing God for. This is a season of divine manifestation of promises I have given my children in the earth ten and twenty years ago, even ministries I have promised. 2018 will be the year of divine manifestation for the purposes of God. It will be a 'fullness of time' moment for many of my children.

I am opening the heavens for Israel in this season. This is a season in which many will hear a call to go to my chosen people. This is a season in which I am releasing my heart into my gentile children for my chosen people. 'I AM' will send many gentile believers to my chosen people to open their hearts and even give assignments in relation to the salvation of my chosen people. My Spirit is moving in an unprecedented manner in high places in the Israeli government for the turning of the tide in this season over my chosen people. There will come a time and season in which very prominent members of government declare Yeshua to be Lord over all.
