From the desk of Abner Suarez

On the morning of March 22, 2007, I was spending some with the Holy Spirit and He dropped the following vision into my Spirit. This was not an open vision, but rather the type of vision Daniel describes in Daniel chapter four verse ten "Now these were the visions in my mind" (New American Standard Bible 1995). I pray that what is shared below would encourage you to believe God for impossible. We have an opportunity to believe God for what has never been done before so that God in heaven would receive the glory due Him.

A Coming Time

March 22, 2007-

I saw a dead body on stage with young people speaking life into a body. And the Holy Spirit said to me, "I will not only do this in the natural, but I will also do this in the Spiritual" The Holy Spirit is calling forth a generation of deadness, into life. Yes, Jesus is truly the resurrection and the life and He is calling this generation that seems so spiritually empty, back to life. He is calling in this hour those things which are non-existent or appear to be dead in the body of Christ, to come alive; churches and groups that are spiritually dead and non-existent to come forth in this hour ... The call should be made clear in this hour that those who want to be a part of what I am doing in this hour must pay clear attention to what the Spirit is saying in this hour. For I seek to revive that which is dead for the raising of life. Just as the town took notice when Lazarus rose from the dead, so too will the nations take notice when I raise to life that which I want to do in this hour...I saw a stadium filled to capacity with people and the glory of God descending on that place . They were not there to meet with a man or just to come to the meeting, but they were there because they heard that if they came and were hungry God would meet with them. As they worship, healings take place over the crowd. Creative healings-- ears growing into place where there were no ears. Blind eyes that have never seen the light of day are being opened, muscles growing back into place where there were not muscles. All this happens as the Holy Spirit orchestrates...The worship band is quite simple, but a cloud of the manifest presence of God is clearly seen by many over the stage in which they worship. And angels hover over the stage as other angels dance to the right and left of the stage. There is a clear open heaven over the stage where the worship team ministers, (At this point in the vision I was reminded of Jacob's ladder experience described in Genesis 28). A young man stands to speak and encourage the people to continue to press into everything that the Holy Spirit is doing around the stadium. He also prays and asks God for more of His fire to fall. Fire balls from heaven fall upon people. As they hit people the power of God hits them and bodies fall and shake and weep under the power of GodThere is a deep sense of brokenness that hovers over the people as they are in complete awe of what the Holy Spirit is doing throughout the stadium. Reporters who are intrigued by what is taking place gather at the stadium to report about thousands of people who have come to meet with God. Some try and criticize but are immediately hit with conviction. Others receive calls from their home base asking what exactly is taking place because there are reports of fire over the entire stadium and people just wailing before the Lord as they walk the streets. Others report that people are leaving bars and heading to the stadium to see what the Lord is doing. Now a dead body has been brought into the stadium and instead of fear and trembling coming upon people the crowd begins to get excited and they begin to declare," LIVE! LIVE!" Others hold their Bible in the air and cry out that Jesus would be glorified through the death and resurrection of this person. Now the scene has switched to the outside of the stadium and the flow of traffic from the entire city is heading toward the massive stadium. The huge billboard outside the stadium simply declares "God is in the house, 21st day, Come any time and meet with God." It's now evening, the lights are on in the stadium and another young man is preaching. He appears to be Hispanic--- in fact he's preaching in Spanish and it is being interpreted into English. He is simply declaring the work that Jesus did on the cross. He calls those forward who need Jesus in their life to come forward. Many come, also with Hispanic faces ...the young Hispanic man preaching begins to pray. As he prays, nearly half those who have come for the offer of salvation are now on their backs. Many are slithering on the ground apparently demon possessed. The young man declares that where sin abounds the grace of God abounds much more. People run to those who are apparently demon possessed and declare that they must go and bow to the name of Jesus. The scene now once again switches to the crowd standing and simply worshipping. The presence of the Holy Spirit is very evident as the people worship...A young man introduces the mayor of the city, although I cannot hear in which city or nation all this is taking place. The mayor stands up and declares the city to be a refuge and a sanctuary for the Most High God Jesus Christ. He also states that he had earlier that day been on the phone with other mayors from around the country and they too are wanting to publically declare their cities as refuges for the most high God Jesus Christ ... the end
